

Outside Resources

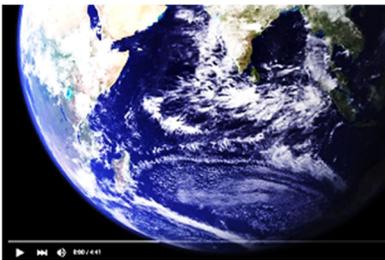

UnityWorks is pleased to share links to these additional resources designed to promote understanding of the oneness of humanity, the value of diversity and the need for unity.

We Are the World Music video (5 min.)

After an especially challenging school year, students at Clarksville Elementary School pulled together to sing a timeless song with an enduring message: when we care for each other, nothing can stop us.

Wage Peace Music video (5 min.)

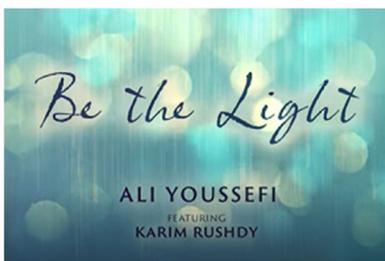

This inspirational video, produced by our friend Bill Fagan, uses beautiful images and simple lyrics to help us understand that "the sun shines on all, great and small" and that we should "wage peace not war, that's what we're fighting for" because "the earth we share is one."

We Are Drops Music video (3 min.)

Also known as the Hawaiian Unity Song. Children will love singing with this animated video, as they learn that we are all drops of one ocean, leaves of one tree, and flowers of one garden. The video was produced by our friend, Houcein Oualil, graphic designer from Rabat, Morocco. For songsheet, click here.

Be the Light Music video (4 min.)

This video considers the importance of growing our own inner light - our virtues - and shedding that light into the world. Produced by our friends from the Virtues Project and Virtues Matter, the video includes over 255 singers and musicians from 44 countries.

Kevin Locke

Kevin Locke is known worldwide as a visionary Lakota Hoop Dancer, preeminent player of the indigenous Northern Plains flute, traditional storyteller, cultural ambassador, recording artist, educator and global citizen. His goal is "to raise awareness of the Oneness we share as human beings." He is available for school assemblies, university programs, flute/hoop workshops and solo concerts.

Red Grammer

Red Grammer's playful and uplifting songs speak to children about oneness and diversity, caring and community. A Grammy Nominee, Red has been featured on the Disney Channel, Nickelodeon, the Today Show and NPR. His Teaching Peace album received the Parents' Choice Classic Award and was named by the All Music Guide as "one of the top five children's recordings of all time." His teacher's guides are available online, and Red is available for live concerts, keynotes and more.

Board Game

Breaking it Down, Towards E Pluribus UNUM is a race dialogue board game for college-age and above. It was developed by our friends at the National Center for Race Amity (NCRA). The game helps create a safe environment for talking about race in a non-toxic manner, with a focus on learning, friendship and mutual support. NCRA also offers "An American Story: Race Amity and the Other Tradition," a video documentary.

Choral Tales

The Choral Tales Project was created to celebrate the diversity and oneness of humankind, and to promote empathy and understanding by presenting inspiring folk tales from around the world through original music and dance. Each story is available as a short video for use in schools and discussion groups. Created by our friend Ludwig Tuman, the Choral Tales Project was recently awarded with a Citation for Excellence from The American Prize in Orchestral Performance.

Virtues Matter

The Virtues Project was created to help people acquire and cultivate virtues—qualities such as compassion, gratitude, strength, hope, resilience and justice. Their website provides tools and services for individuals and teams, including in-person and online workshops, connection circles and more. They also offer a free, easy-to-use virtues card app which, like a book of daily readings, helps promote the development of good character. Useful for individuals, families, schools and other organizations. Thanks to Dara Feldman for this tip!
